Opening

First: You will need a tape measure and pencil.

Second: Stand inside your porch with your back to the house. Sketch a layout of your porch.

Third: Start numbering your openings with opening #1 at your left adjacent to the House. Continue numbering the openings clockwise.

Third: Make certain you include a door as a numbered opening.

Upon sketching out your future porch on paper follow these same steps.

First: Measure in three locations vertically and three locations horizontally as shown above.

Second: Take the smallest of the three measurements you took vertically and the smallest of the three measurements you took horizontally. These two measurements will be your opening size.
